1. PROGRAM, RANK AND GENERAL PROVISIONS

1.1. Program and rank of competitions

1.1.1. Strongman competitions include the exercises which are approved by the list of the federation.

1.1.2. Except multiathlon competitions, there are tournaments in mass-wrestling as a separate type of strongman.

1.1.3. Competitions are held between the athletes in the categories defined according to their sex, weight and age.

1.1.4. Competitions are held in order of increasing weight categories from light to heavy.

1.1.5. Weight categories are divided into groups (sessions). If the number of athletes in weight category exceeds 14, the participants must be divided into two (or more) groups.

1.1.6. In a flow the athletes of one or more adjacent weight categories are competing.

1.1.7. Distribution of athletes into groups (the first - is stronger, the second - weaker and so on and so far) is carried out by the main panel of judges (hereinafter referred to as - MPJ) depending on their sporting achievements (12 months before the event) that are submitted in previous applications. Lists of athletes who are divided into groups, are published not later than 15 minutes prior to the weighting in a flow.

1.1.8. The athletes of the weakest GROUP are competing first.

1.1.9. Each of the competitors has one attempt in each exercise. Exceptions are explained in the relevant sections of these rules. Athlete, who showed greater amount of points is the winner in his weight category. Other members are classified according to the acquired amount. If two members show the same result in the amount of points, the athlete who has more victories as the advantage. In order to determine the places in exercises the points will be awarded as follows (example for 8 participants):

For the 1st place – 8 points

2nd place – 7 points

3rd place – 6 points

4th place – 5 points

5th place – 4 points

6th place – 3 points

7th place – 2 points

8th place – 1 points.

In case of complete failure of the participant in certain exercise the points are not awarded at all. In case of draw the points of participants are divided equally. If it is necessary to identify places in the overall standings, the places will be determined by one of the following principles:

1)The majority of the first places;

2)The majority of the second places.

Prior to sets a blind draw will be carried out to determine the starting order for the participants of the first exercise. After that, unless otherwise stated, the order of the next order of athletes may be reverse, according to the results of previous exercise, i.e., an athlete who showed the worst results in the previous exercise, goes first and vice versa. Participants of paired exercises also go in reverse order to the occupied place in the previous exercise, i.e.: 8 and 7, 6 and 5, 4 and 3, 2 and 1. Before the last exercise participants also go in reverse order, but according to the amount of points collected in the previous exercises. That is, the participant with the lowest amount of points goes first and vice versa.

1.1.10. All kinds of competitions in strongman held are divided into ranks¹ under their scale: I - International, II – National, III - Regional and Urban, IV - the rest. I rank - Olympics
